Pair up. Stare into your partner's eyes for 10 seconds.

Repeat until you have partnered with everyone on your team twice. If you have an odd number of team members, there should always be one group of three, because it is physically impossible to stare into your own set of eyes without the benefit of a selfie taking camera or a mirror or a magician or a magician holding a mirror or a magician holding a mirror looking at himself or herself taking a selfie of said magician.

#16

“Drive” two laps around the entire room while everyone is loudly singing different songs.

#20

Everyone on your team tell your team.

This person then goes and tells the presenter all the nicknames.
